Con & Sl 55-4

Dear Mr. Puttarangaswami,

You undoubtedly remember that the United Nations was officially "born" on October 24, 1945. That date has since been celebrated every year as "United Nations Day" by all member countries of the Organization. The cooperation in this connection of the Government of India and that of the State Governments has constantly been deeply appreciated by the United Nations.

October 24 this year will mark the Tenth Anniversary of the United Nations, and it is desirable that special efforts be made to make United Nations Day this year stand out as a very special occasion. With this in view, the Government of India has appointed an All India United Nations Day Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rajan Nehru, which is making arrangements for the celebration of the Day throughout India. A number of States have also formed U.N. Day Committees to organize celebrations within their States. Those which have not yet set up their Committees, are expected to do so within a short time.

The United Nations Department of Public Information is producing a variety of materials for use during the U.N. Day celebrations, such as posters, pamphlets, picture sheets, filmstrip, etc. (see attached list). These are distributed on request to educational institutions, non-governmental organizations, libraries, local groups and societies and other bodies which will be celebrating the Day. This year we expect a much larger number of requests for these materials than in previous years.

Budgetary restrictions prevent us from printing the materials in the quantity and in the various languages desirable for India. In previous years some of the State Governments had the U.N. materials reproduced in local languages. Of course, we will do our best to meet the requests from the States, but experience of previous years has made it apparent that the demand has always been greater than what we could supply. We would therefore request the State Governments to supplement our supplies by printing the materials in their local languages.

Reference [illegible]

to request that the State Government may kindly arrange if they see no objection, to supplement the quantity, where found deficient, and to get the posters, etc. printed locally

Yours faithfully,

(F M De Mello Kamath),
Under Secretary

Last year some States also set up Distribution Centres for United Nations Day material. We should like to see this year such Centres established in all the States. We could then send to these Distribution Centres materials in bulk, based on anticipated demand, and the Centres could distribute the material to the requestors. It would perhaps be possible for you to designate your Director of Information (or his equivalent) to serve as the Distribution Centre for your State. Any request received by us from your State would be routed to him for attention. This arrahgement will enable us to provide better service to the institutions and organizations who have been celebrating the U.N. Day over the past years.

I shall deeply appreciate it if you will kindly let me know at your earliest convenience, if possible by the end of May, if it will be possible for your State to set up such Distribution Centres, as well as to undertake reprinting suitable materials in local languages. I shall send you samples of the materials as soon as these are received from UN Headquarters.

Yours sincerely,

Purnendu Basu
